

elliott davis

responsible AI starts here

AI is creating new opportunities to improve efficiency and decision-making, but realizing its full potential requires effective governance, oversight, and accountability. Elliott Davis helps organizations establish practical AI governance and control solutions that support innovation, strengthen trust, and drive value.

what sets us apart

specialized knowledge

Our team combines governance, risk, and controls expertise with practical AI insights to strengthen oversight, support adoption, and advance business objectives.

personalized attention

We customize our approach to your AI objectives, risk profile, governance maturity, and strategic priorities to deliver practical, business-focused solutions.

team-based approach

Our multidisciplinary teams combine specialized expertise with a deep understanding of your business to address complex AI, governance, risk, and controls challenges.

scalable solutions

Whether you are exploring AI opportunities or enhancing existing programs, our solutions support sustainable adoption, effective oversight and lasting value.

is your organization prepared to realize the full value of AI?

Discover how effective AI governance can advance innovation while managing risk.

AI governance strategy & framework design

Establish governance structures, accountability models, and decision-making frameworks that support innovation while addressing risk.

process optimization & automation opportunities

Evaluate opportunities to improve operational efficiency, enhance decision-making, and drive business performance through the practical application of AI.

AI risk assessment & use case identification

Assess AI use cases, evaluate and monitor AI-related risks, and develop strategies that support responsible adoption and informed decision-making.

controls maturation

Evaluate governance and control maturity to identify gaps, prioritize improvement opportunities, and enhance organizational readiness for expanded AI adoption.

about elliott davis

At Elliott Davis, your success is our purpose. Our industry leaders take time to understand you, your business, and your goals, working closely as a team to develop tailored strategies and informed guidance. With over a century of experience and a team of 800+ professionals, we deliver innovative solutions in tax, assurance, and consulting.

tax

Imagine new ways to reduce overall tax-related costs, transforming an economic burden into an opportunity to create value.

assurance

A full spectrum of assurance service solutions to collect and present information needed to make enlightened choices.

consulting

We take a 360-degree approach to understanding your business, providing action, and delivering results-oriented solutions.

